Trained by medicine at the University of Illinois, Dr. Pitt took medical training in internal medicine at Cook County and Hines Veterans Administration Hospitals. In addition to his present post he is assistant professor of medicine at Chicago Medical School.

There isn't a single nurse in the city who doesn't call the police when they see a person who is having a heart attack.

The man on the phone told him to get a gun and shoot the person who was having a heart attack. He said he didn't have a gun, so he called the police. The police came and told him to get a gun and shoot the person who was having a heart attack. He said he didn't have a gun, so he called the police. The police came and told him to get a gun and shoot the person who was having a heart attack.

One Never Knows
Little did the first year old Brian Hastings know when he was born that his kindergarten class at North added what was in store for his future.

His classmate, Mike Walsh, was scheduled to wear small boy clothes in a style show given by Brian. Teller for the St. Francis Women's Club, which is a small kindergarten at Illinois Country Club last Thursday. But Mike came down with the measles and Brian's mother told him he was the replacement. Brian presented at the way to the runway that he had been told to wear.

His last words to his mother before he took the show were a group of lovely girls that included a model wearing a floor length white dress. "Are you sure boys do things like that?" Brian is the son of the Hasting family and his mother, who is a nurse, is a member of the Hasting family and his mother, who is a nurse, is a member of the Hasting family.

Not a Single One

For some years it has been said that the only way to get a person to do anything is to threaten them with the police or the courts. The police are the only ones who can enforce the law. The courts are the only ones who can punish the guilty.

Some Day

Beat's Aity. Don Ward is on his white horse and riding out to the suburbs to give that English teacher a lesson in proper respect for the flag.

It is good that Don is riding this way, because any teacher who only spent two years in the Marine Corps probably doesn't understand what the flag is all about and the traditions that extend beyond boundaries.

It is nice to know Don is wide awake. While he is galloping around the countryside he should stop at the shade of the Marine workers who some people say are living on floors made of dirt. Don might want to see if it is true those workers have a community center and a PTA for a start.

Don finds this to be true he might write some more poems and teach those Marines and respect for the flag.

Don could also stop and look at those unfurnished apartments at Alameda and Buena Vista. There are the same old shanty people crisscross through the nation for a miserable wage.

If Don doesn't get thrown from his horse, he might stop and talk to some of the people who work in their basement because the village and the money dance, men to be getting their building permits written faster than the speed of light can handle rain water.

And before Don puts his horse back to the arena he should say by name of their university campus in Chicago where the protesters and students are practicing the ultimate in flag respect and sniping assemblable materials for the boys in Viet Nam.

Don might even have enough boy left in the horse to light a candle for those present at all flag events to remember that their delightful freedoms that is being paid to freedom.

Stop to again, Don, some day when you can say.

... by Frank E. Von Arx

Vantage Point

Reports from "The Building" at 26th and California in Chicago are that Beat's Aity. Don Ward has taken a personal interest in the prosecution of Prospect High School teacher Richard Calich in the "Flag case".

"The Building" is that unique establishment housing the Cook County Criminal Courts. It is a haven for lawyers and through its halls in a single day pass all of the rumors worth hearing in the county legal establishment.

Calich, who stepped on the flag in a literature class on Thursday, May 12, will face court in Nelson on Tuesday, May 13.

Considering that this court system is plagued with cases, it is apparent from the early hearing date granted Calich that interest in his situation is intense.

Calich stepped on the flag on Thursday, May 12 during a third-hour English class. His point was that symbols are very real.

He appeared before the student body last Thursday and in a long speech to some 400 students outlined his position.

WE THOUGHT the matter would end there.

It has not and now will receive further airing and treatment dictated by a court of law.

If there were any question about Dick Calich's patriotism, this would certainly be the issue in what is developing into an unusual case.

Calich is not a subversive and has no patriotic ex to gratify through his action. The flag incident very effectively made Calich's academic point - symbols are real.

It appears to us that the bigger issue here is academic freedom. The question involved is the right for a teacher to teach as effectively and as democratically as he deems necessary to make his point.

Does a teacher have the right to become over-enthusiastic in the classroom situation? A good teacher, like a good actor or good writer has strong emotions and feelings about his work.

A GOOD teacher can be over-emotional and stimulate thought. And stimulate thought is what teaching is all about.

Don Calich has the reputation of being a good teacher. His teaching companions at Prospect recognize him for a highly sensitive individual.

... by Jack Vandermyn

There is no question that his performance with the flag was over-the-top.

Such cases as this do all impossible harm to the teaching profession before they put teachers at the position of considering their actions as far as public acceptance is concerned.

Remove the spontaneity from a Dick Calich and you have taken away a certain spark that makes him a class live.

If the course prove that Calich violated Chapter 56 of the state code, he could be sentenced to jail for 30 days. He could be fined. The court could fine him and send him to jail.

Calich has been advised by legal counsel not to discuss the case with the press before the trial.

WE HOPE the trial does not turn into a Roman circus and take on political overtones. There was once one rumor circulating around "The Building" that Ward would come into court and handle Calich's prosecution personally.

This would be a laudable effort in the Cook County Courts where the state's attorney has the role of administrator rather than prosecutor.

"A Losing Battle?"

W.C. BURGESS, N.E.

DOCTOR SAYS Air Circulation

Q - It is sad to see the same air day is day and yet in so air-conditioned buildings. Some people prefer window fans and others say the fans bring in dust and dampness. What do you think?

A - The large make that condition the air in big public buildings work and filter the air before it is recirculated.

Some single-room air conditioners to homes may be adjusted to bring in or exclude outside air but in older homes there is some circulation of air from the outside.

Window fans will bring in dust unless they are provided with filters and will bring in moisture if the outside air is denser than that on the inside, in which case a dehumidifier may be needed.

It probably all began some 5,000 years ago with the invention of the wheel. Ever since man has had a running battle with the infernal machine, changing the wheel to the right of way - and losing.

Each time he has come in second but man has cried out in protest denouncing the dangers and lack of safeguards inherent in the machine.

That infernal machine is still running wild on our highways. Again the hue and cry is for refinement of the machine to make it safer.

It is true that added safeguards and refinements are provided, but without proper attitudes and skills, additional safety features will only point out dangers for imprudence. It is not so much the infernal machine that needs refinement as much as it is the infernal operator. Certainly the ingenuity involved in creating an auto can derive a way to control it.

The National Safety Council has come up with a proven way of controlling the auto. It is known as Defensive Driving. It has been practiced for years by commercial vehicle drivers who have completed a driving record twice as good as the average motorist.

An opportunity for you to compare your driving skills with those of other drivers is available to television viewers tonight. CBS presents another of its National Drivers Tests at 9 p.m. on WBBM-TV, Channel 2. Viewers on that page are will find a score sheet for the test. Answer the questions then compare your answer with those given by expert drivers and commentators.

Let's see if we are equipped for the battle with the infernal machine.

Library Land Not Revealed By Board

An off-the-record report to the Library Board on the progress in acquisition of land for the proposed new library was given Tuesday night by board member Norval Davis.

Davis said reports present that money dealing with the purchase of land for the new building, owned by the firm known as Deaton, Smith, Vail and Freeman are to be considered confidential and not for disclosure to the public.

Grass Grows Long But By Mistake

A misunderstanding has resulted in longer grass than usual in front of the Public Library.

Librarian Mary Ewell said the lawn has been cut in the past by the Park District, but the service stopped without notice.

A quick check with Park District Trust Thomas Thorne revealed the reason.

The district "found" that School Dist. 25 had bought the present building and left in obligation to continue cutting the lawn. It was pointed out to the Park District that the school district will not take possession of the building until the library moves into its new building.

"The Park District will be mowing again," said Mary Ewell. "I wish this time we might have to end outside with a lawnkeeper in due time again."

The report dealt with the planned move by the village to obtain the three-quarter acre tract and the house owned by Allen Bray and Rosalie Heller.

Also mentioned in the off-the-record session were possible ways of disposing of two buildings, both considered landmarks, once the land is obtained.

A special meeting of the board will be held at 8 p.m. June 7 with representatives of Nicol and Nicol, architects of the proposed library building.

Thomas W. Novony told the architect made a presentation of progress in the plan to the board.

In other business, Mr. Robert Walton, 120 S. Kensington, was elected secretary of the board.

Mr. Walter, who succeeded Mrs. Ewell, has been a board member for five years.

A quick check with Park District Trust Thomas Thorne revealed the reason.

The district "found" that School Dist. 25 had bought the present building and left in obligation to continue cutting the lawn. It was pointed out to the Park District that the school district will not take possession of the building until the library moves into its new building.

"The Park District will be mowing again," said Mary Ewell. "I wish this time we might have to end outside with a lawnkeeper in due time again."

Television reporters are under fire but the board isn't taking it lying down.

The resolution will be presented at a June 1 public meeting which Clark has called.

HONEST reporters must Clark's charges.

"He gave a distorted picture," said Walter B. Landwehr, of Landwehr TV and Application. "Of course you can find 20 honest guys if you look in the right place."

Factory of Hope For Handicapped

standard, the atmosphere in the sheltered workshop here is one of hope and progress. The young people, who maintain age 14, stand instead through time.

They retain the smiles of Mrs. Peterson and their supervisors and occasionally indulge in small talk with their work.

"For many of these people, the workshop provides the only opportunity for socialization and putting labels in the marketplace. Others are being helped to find their own way."

"Some companies have supplied work for our workers," said Gillette. "The training program is designed to help them progress according to how much they complete."

"Since our people work more slowly than factory employees, they are not able to make the minimum wage established by the U.S. Dept. of Labor," he says.

"Because of this, we have a special income from the department's Wage and Hours Division allowing lower rates for trainees."

EARNING money is a source of pride for the trainees. They work methodically and quietly at their tables. They're also proud to be trained this rapidly in the factory environment, paying close attention to their progress every day.

"We do not consider the trainees," Gillette says. "One of our objectives is to prepare these kids for the world and to make them competitive in the marketplace. We're not looking for a quick fix, but we're looking for a long-term solution."

"When the trainees don't produce," he said. "If Gillette is not satisfied."

"I love children and young people," she says. "My daughter and grandchildren live at a long distance, and that's one reason I'm so glad to come to Clearbrook."

"The WORKSHOP trainees obviously are glad that she's here."

"Margaret," one girl calls to Mrs. Peterson. "We're going outside for coffee break today."

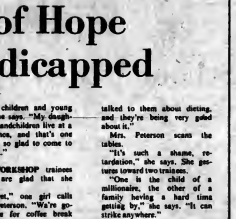

Another girl tells Mrs. Peterson that she will join up for a tennis match on her break.

"Several of the girls were quite plump and unhappy about it," Mrs. Peterson says. "We talked to them about dieting, and they're being very good about it."

"One is the child of a millionaire, the other of a family being a hard time getting by," she says. "I can strike anywhere."

Whatever makes it difficult, it is accepted here. The girls at the Clearbrook Center - a place where young people short-changed by fate get a chance for useful and dignified lives.

New Plant Will Print The Day

Metropolitan Printing Co. will be located at 855 Morse Ave. in Centex Industrial Park, Elk Grove Village. Artist's concept shows how the 43,000-square-foot plant will appear after completion sometime this year.

Teen Talent Search To Begin

Teen-agers will have a chance to win a three-week Europe tour, a professional scholarship, recording sessions and a recording contract by winning the Mount Prospect District Talent Search.

The district contest, sponsored by the Mount Prospect Plans merchants, at Rand and Central Rds., will start sessions Wednesday at 4 p.m. The contest is open to all teens from 13 through 19 years of age. There is no age limit and the public is invited to watch auditions.

Entry blanks may be obtained at any Mount Prospect Plans store or the Plans office.

The contest is for singers, dancers, musicians, novelty acts and a "battle of bands." The winning district contest will receive a free recording session at Recordings Unlimited in Chicago.

A PANEL of judges will select one variety act and one combo to compete in the grand finale at McCormick Place this summer. A special district contest will be held to select a "Teen Queen" and "Co-Co" Dancer Team.

The winners will go to McCormick Place also to compete for scholarships.

The grand winner will receive a three-week European tour, joining a troupe of Teen-agers from Tokyo to London and six countries doing good will concerts.

3 Named To College Board

Three Arlington Heights residents have been installed as members of the Western Illinois University's student senate governing board.

Patricia A. Sullivan, 1942 Elm Grove Rd., and Linda Johnson, 514 S. Ridge, are new members of the board and will represent the high school seniors.

Don R. Mitchell, 112 S. Newland, is a new member of the board and will represent the college students.

The union is the "new half" of the 400-acre campus. Students don't dance, banquet, and hold meetings in the union.

Trustees Hear Plan For 2,000 Dwellings

BY FRANK W. ALEX
planned community for 2,000 people and nearly 2,000 dwelling units at the northeast limits of Arlington Heights received a cordial reception Monday night.

Chenierfeld Builders of Chicago discussed plans with the village board of trustees and other village officials at a preliminary, pre-meeting session of 333 members.

Several trustees expressed reservations on some specifics but the overall reaction was favorable.

"I like the design," said Village President John G. Woods. "I know Chenierfeld Builders has an extremely fine reputation."

Chenierfeld has built in Niles, Park Ridge and most of the North Shore communities. It proposes 1,777 dwelling units, including 400 single family homes in the $35,000 price bracket.

One of the reasons for the opposition by trustees was the number of multiple family dwellings, 324 duplexes and 1,000 apartment units.

"I am concerned about the intrusion of multiple family dwellings on Arlington Heights," said Trustee Leroy A. Bruehl.

"It is changing the character of our village and maybe we can't stop progress," Bruehl said.

"This does my instincts and larger developments are under consideration," Bruehl added.

"In this project the percentage of multiple family is slightly more than 60 per cent."

TRUSTEE Carl F. Moss said the proposed duplexes would mean an increase in school children per acre while the single family homes would mean only six per acre.

"That is what the schools are concerned about," Moss said. "I really don't approve of dual duplexes."

Other portions of the plan, especially the new shopping center, were most appealing. The property is bounded by Arlington Heights and Buffalo Grove Rds., extending north from Hunt Rd. almost to Dundee Rd.

The main entrance off of Arlington Heights Rd. will be a landscaped drive.

described as a "borderline" with a parking that would be used with apartment buildings.

Open areas for parks and schools would wedge through the corner of a rectangular shaped parcel to the west where a single family unit would be constructed.

"We tried to use open areas to separate the various shopping classifications," attorney Howard Bruehl said in making the presentation for Chenierfeld Builders.

Bruehl and members of the Plans Committee and the village board would be provided with information to know the project would affect land use and school districts.

STATISTICS sent to the trustees estimated 1,222 elementary pupils and 298 high school students from the 604 single family homes, 304 elementary and 75 apartment units.

The total 2,177 students from the 1,000 apartment units.

Chenierfeld Builders' survey maintained that high School Dist. 214 and Elementary Dist. 22 would benefit from the development while Elementary Dist. 23 would be adversely affected.

Chenierfeld researchers said the village tax rate would benefit from the project, which over a five-year period would include 6.3 acres of business zoning and 400 acres of industrial building to the west.

"Basically, I am looking for a project to be self-supporting," President Woods said. "To the learned gentlemen who came up with these figures (that we will benefit) I will say that I don't believe it."

"And when I get the figures it'll prove it."

Next step for Chenierfeld Builders will be to submit an application for a preliminary plat to the village board.

The agreement includes some restrictions concerning the placement of the project of multiple family units—three to the north and south of the area.

Creek Plans Filled with State

an application to relocate McDonald Creek past west of Hunt Rd. and south of Randolph Ave. has been filed with the Illinois Division of Waterways.

R. Keith G. Wertz, 1430 N. Arlington Heights Rd., has filed his application for the Chicago Lake subdivision.

Persons interested in the project are invited to contact John C. O'Neil, chief surveyor, 201 W. Monroe, Springfield.

Building for The Day

K. S. Johnson (left) and Marshall Field got things moving at groundbreaking ceremony Monday for Metropolitan Printing Co. newly owned subsidiary of Field Enterprises. When completed late this year, Metropolitan will print the three Day Publications newspapers, The Arlington Day, The Prospect Day and Mt. Prospect Day.

Field, Others Praise New Printing Plant

Marshall Field turned the first spade of dirt Monday for the new plant for Metropolitan Printing Co., an wholly owned subsidiary of Field Enterprises, in the Centex Industrial Park, Elk Grove Village.

Elk Grove Village President Jack Paul and officials from Field Enterprises, Day Publications, Inc.; F. & S. Construction Co. and the Centex Co. were on hand for the groundbreaking.

Turning the first shovel of dirt with Field was K. S. Johnson, president of Metropolitan Printing Co. and vice president and general manager of Day Publications, publisher of The Arlington Day, The Prospect Day and Mt. Prospect Day.

Johnson said that Metropolitan will have the most advanced offset printing equipment in the area when it commences $1,000 square feet of floor space in a two-story industrial site at 855 Morse Ave.

Holiday Inn Is Started

Ground was broken Monday for a Holiday Inn Motel at 200 Rand Rd. in Mount Prospect.

The inn, which is expected to open in March, 1967, will contain 152 units in its three stories. The type of land is approximately three acres.

John A. Brooks, president of Mount Prospect Motor Hotels Inc., turned the first shovel of dirt at the site yesterday afternoon.

Brooks was flanked by R. J. Rakita and Dr. Howard Moss, owners of the Holiday Inn Motel, which will be built.

Rakita and Dr. Moss will hold title to the land and building. They will own the facility to Brooks who will operate it.

Brooks said the inn will be an interior corridor facility with elevator service to the shops stories. It will have a cocktail lounge, dining room and a bar.

THERE WILL be a swimming pool and lounge facility on the site.

Brooks, who will operate the facility himself, is a graduate of Cornell School of Hotel Administration.

He currently manages the Holiday Inn Motel with his wife and two children.

Pupil Participation at Gregory

The "Baffin Exhibit" caused interest and excitement at a recent Gregory PTA meeting.

Viewing the showcase exhibits of items in the exhibit are the newly installed of Gregory, Mrs. Richard Ferguson, president; Mrs. Patrick McKenna, vice president; Richard Schultz, secretary, and Stanley Korechy, Treasurer.

The sixth grade students at the school had the privilege of having Vic Kane of Mount Prospect, tell about his experiences in Viet Nam. Serving in the Army for almost a year in action, he told not only the soldiers view on war but those of the people of Viet Nam. He stressed the confusion within the country, teaching on internal problems, and of their valiant struggle against the communists.

3 Nuns Hurt in Accident

Three nuns from Sacred Heart of Mary High School, Rolling Meadows were injured in an accident near Prospect, Ill., Sunday.

Sister St. Mel was hospitalized with a fractured vertebra in the neck and Sister Rita suffered a fractured vertebra in the back. Both are in fairly good condition in Franciscan Memorial Hospital.

A third nun, Sister Stanislaus, was released from the hospital Monday.

Illinois State Police said the sisters were passengers in a car driven by Margaret Boyle of Rolling Meadows when a rear tire of the auto blew, causing the car to roll over twice into a ditch.

The mishap occurred on U.S. 30 about 6 miles east of Prospect.

Family Activity in Two Patterns

"Family activity in today's home follows two patterns," according to William A. Alter, president of Resko, the company developing Airy Tract in Arlington Heights. "Either formal entertaining, when the husband's boss is invited to dinner, or having good friends in to talk and enjoy relaxed, spontaneous activity. This is the concept which was incorporated into the design of the Patricia."

Formal entertaining begins in the foyer with its grand, dual stair case entry leading into the living room. Ideal for formal gatherings, this room extends, through sliding glass panels to the outdoor deck.

"Some of the families in Airy Tract have used the new, indoor-outdoor carpeting to carry their living room outdoors," Alter said. "The decks are often used for outdoor dining and family cookouts."

Downstairs, a family room is planned for more energetic pastimes. A fireplace is featured to give an atmosphere of warmth and hospitality. Shuffle boards, ping pong tables and dart boards are ideally in character with the room. Families have been known to add a second stove and a refrigerator to this area to make an independent morning bottle - necks, and apartment of the lower level as extra, full-sized room and/or provide cooking facilities for convenient entertaining.

Steel Sinks Gaining Popularity on Patios

It's about time for Americans to start their migration to the patio.

The patio, says the Elkay Manufacturing Co., is to modern, outdoor living what the old Spanish courtyard was to old Spanish outdoor living — a social center. There are similarities. There are differences.

As vast as large as the Spanish courtyard "is not easily adaptable to most residential lots," Elkay notes in gentle euphemism, thinking, perhaps, about the Sunday afternoon mushroom clouds of herbaceous smoke ascending over the neighboring suburbs.

This rather basic difference aside, there are similarities.

BE IT noticed that the word "patio" is Spanish. And although that may be a necessary concomitant to grandeur, the old Spaniards had the same idea — to meet, to talk, to drink, to eat, to laugh, to dance, and maybe to swear never to do it again.

The courtyard of the Spanish estate had a huge fountain, around which one could hear the bubble of water and of gossip, as women immersed themselves in conversations of an intensely topical nature.

ELKAY says the fountain was necessary because of the lack of adequate plumbing. Besides, it was an expression of that certain Spanish flair for expense and ostentation. In short, it was a product of its time.

Elkay, which says it pioneered in convincing people that water sources are needed in more than just the kitchen and bathroom with its SINK-Knowing (sic) concept, claims to be the world's largest producer of stainless steel sinks.

(There is an unconformed report that the firm knew it was time to start pushing its sinks hard when a vice president saw one of those mushroom clouds take the shape of an old, asparagus, Spanish fountain.)

Stainless steel sinks are rising in popularity on the patio.

Elkay says it can put stainless finish which, with new designs, show these products of their time to "blend with any surrounding" — no matter how different your suburb is.

WHILE THE sinks are burning, the kids are bothering everybody and you have checked on your face, what do you do? A suggestion: Go to your stainless steel sink, fill a pail of water, throw some water on the sinks, some on the kids, and wash your face with the rest.

It was just a suggestion. You'll be able to do the same thing next year, Elkay says. Stainless steel is very durable in bad weather ... maybe more durable than you.

Arlington Heights is very special ... special because of its outstanding schools, excellent shopping, fine recreational facilities and wide, tree-lined streets. That is why it has often been acclaimed as "Chicago's most promising suburb" by BUSINESS WEEK, TIME and other, nationally known publications.

An Airy Trace Home in Arlington Heights is very special too ... special because it's painstakingly constructed, extravagantly roomy and offers such features as a colonial, curved stair case, a brick, wood-burning fireplace and a grown-up bedroom suite ... a private apartment within your home which includes a full-sized sitting room where mother and dad can get away from it all for a few hours.

Chic For Closets

Have one or four simple suggestions for making your closet as chic as your new clothes.

There's only one way to start. Strip your closet to its "bare bones." Then, when all that's left is the shelves, wash the walls, shelves and floor with a sponge which has been dunked in mild cleanser and water. This way, you'll get rid of dirt and germs and your closet will smell as clean as it is.

SUGGESTION number two — Make good use of the aids to sustain now on the market. These are the plastic garment bags, one-through-hang boxes, hanging shoe shelves, belt racks and the like. Just explore your nearest closet shop and you'll get the idea.

Suggestion number three — Wallpaper and glaze your closet. You can do this all at once with a pine door.

Suggestion number four — Avoid family friction by trying using a skirt hanger, or even a garment bag, to make two sections out of one closet. Then, if it's a "his" and "hers" closet, the dividing line is clear. If it's just your closet, take advantage of organizing space by putting short garments on one side, long ones on the other. Then it will look neater and keep both your clothes and your temper in better condition.

Insulation Important Winter and Summer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Insulation is just as important in keeping a house cool in summer as it is in keeping it warm in winter, says a leading authority in the field.

"The same reason that fuel like the inside of a furnace in February resembles a steam bath in July," according to James J. Sullivan of Allied Chemical Corporation's Barret Division.

Consequently, home owners should do something about their insulation now rather than wait for the return of cooler weather, Sullivan says.

"If a house is built on a concrete slab, there should be a belt of insulation around the slab and the footing wall. If possible, between the slab and the footing wall.

If the house is built over a crawl space, the sides of the space should be covered with an insulation board and the ground with a good grade of roofing felt.

Openings leading into the house — around plumbing for example — should also be insulated. If finished attic is planned, insulation should be placed in the attic ceiling and extended up the attic walls from the walls of the rooms below. Floors over unheated porches or garages should be insulated.

There is also an eleven-room, five-bedroom version available with over 3,500 square feet. # How About a 'Cannibal Roast'?

JUST RIGHT FOR A "CANNIBAL ROAST," a teen-age barbecue which is currently the craze, are tasty "Frank-Kabobs." This main dish permits every young guest to spear his or her own dinner, make it short or long, and get a chance to cook it, cannibal style. Outdoor tested by Weber, manufacturers of barbecue equipment, the recipe calls for chunks of frankfurters which have been marinated in a special soy sauce, with alternate slices of green pepper, celery and onions.

Dad had better look to his backyard culinary laurels. No longer can barbecue cooking be considered solely an adult prerogative and talent. Junior chefs all over the country are invading the patios and family outdoor cooking areas.

Teen - barbecues, or "cannibal roasts," as they are called by the younger set, appear to have started on the West Coast where youngsters seem to hate going indoors, even for meals.

Keeping in the swing of things with the swinging set, the home consultant department of Weber-Grill Products Co., manufacturers of covered barbecue kettles, have come up with some specific outdoor tested recipes created for teenage appetites. Two of these recipes are "Frank-Kabobs" and "Kooky Burgers."

gas, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard. Alternate meat and vegetables on skewers and place over grill of barbecue kettle. Broil kabobs five minutes on each side, brushing occasionally with soy-sauce marinade. Serve six.

KOOKY BURGERS

"Kooky Burgers," suggested by the Weber kitchen, were inspired by the teen-age inclination and ability to eat everything in sight, and mixed all together, at that. The paraphernalia, which can be many and varied, allow young guests to create their own gourmet masterpieces. Practically everything but the barbecue kettle lid can be set out by the junior host or hostess as "kooky" toppings for the hamburgers, or "Kookies" as they are called. These garnishments, as many as the hamburgers can hold, should be placed on top of the broiled patties approximately one minute before broiling.

FRANK-KABOBS

"Frank-Kabobs," a Weber recipe favorite, are particularly appropriate for teenage "cannibal roasts." Everyone can "spoon" his or her own dinner and get a chance to cook it, "cannibal" style. The young host and hostess, however, should have all the ingredients ready for the visiting chef and "chick." The makings for the kabobs may be lined up attractively on a table next to the barbecue kettle. Guests can help themselves to the marinated frankfurters, slices of green pepper, celery and onions, and fashion their kabobs as short or as long as they like.

1 lb. frankfurters (8 to 16) cut in 1-inch slices
1 cup 1-inch slices celery
1 cup 1-inch slices green pepper

soy-sauce marinade
For three hours soak frankfurters and vegetables at room temperature in soy-sauce marinade. To prepare marinade, combine 1/2 cup soy sauce, 1/3 cup catsup, 1/2 cup salad oil, 1/2 cup vinegar, 1-1/2 lbs. ground beef, salt and/or country ground

2 ribs. Broiled quickly under top, salt

dash pepper
Mix meat, onion, salt and pepper. Lightly pat into six burgers, about half inch thick. Broil over hot coals about six minutes, turn and broil three to four minutes longer, or till done to your liking.

Place one or more of the following "kooky" toppings on each patty for the required minute: crumbled blue cheese, sour cream, chopped olives, chopped nuts, cream cheese and chives mixed, chopped onions, chutney, chopped mushrooms or whole mushrooms caps, 1 to 1 1/2 slices cucumber slice, sweet relish, catsup, Worcestershire sauce, dash of bottled hot pepper sauce, cooked crumbled bacon, prepared mustard, slices of assorted brick cheese or assorted canned fruits, such as pineapple or peaches.

Fretwork Livens Room

Airy, open and very much in the mood of the season, fretwork casts cool reflections of light and shade across the home fashion scene. Its appearances are many, its interpretations varied.

Lattice and trellis effects, lacy patterns in wrought iron, cut-out wood carvings, wicker and cane — they're all part of the fretwork trend. Ornamental openwork adorns everything from outdoor furniture to offing screens.

The fretwork influence is seen in the use of carved, carved wood for the sides of sofas and chairs or the headboards of beds.

Used in the same way, cane in furniture looks both cool and attractive for spring. Fabrics and floor coverings, wallpapers and wall paintings echo the trend. Sofas, for instance, are upholstered with cane patterns that reflect the fretwork feeling of their carved wood sides.

Wall-to-wall carpeting or area rug, floor coverings create the fretwork look through both patterns and weaves — sculptured effects, for example. Fanciful displays dimensional designs, like a sofa version of wrought iron, while wallpaper patterns follow the fretwork trend with lattice and wicker effects.

Expressing still another approach to the airy, open look, folding floor screens employ everything from wicker weaves to pre-string strands of beads for a refreshing result.

In wall ornaments, various types of scroll designs are ready to complement the fretwork of new home fashion.

Airy and open is the look for furniture and furnishings this spring. All is light and bright — for the new season.

The breath of spring is apparent everywhere in this bright livens room. Fretwork-effect wallpaper, the design of the indoor-outdoor furniture and the day-painted plants all reflect the current trend to a light, airy, open feeling inside the home. The furniture offers comfortable foam rubber cushions, while the plastic wallpaper is washable.

Deputies for the concert are Fred Elliot, Harry Swanson and Vincent Alagant.

Continue Trial of Attorney

Arlington Heights Attorney Neil T. Burfield was granted a continuance until June 3 at Mount Pleasant court on charges of driving while intoxicated and two other traffic violations.

Burfield failed to appear in court recently. He had posted $25 bond when arrested March 31 in Mount Pleasant.

Mount Pleasant Village Attorney Bob Moore asked Judge James P. Fure to issue a warrant for Burfield's arrest. Judge Porter agreed to the warrant, but, after receiving a phone call from Burfield's attorney, he continued the case.

In addition to driving while intoxicated, Burfield faces charges of speeding and improper lane usage.

New Mail Service At Randhurst

A new service postal unit in the Randhurst Shopping Center will provide free curbside with 35-hour-a-day, 365-day-a-year postal service, and Theodore C. O'Connell, postmaster.

Automatically, the weekly postal service was given the week by Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien as the department's continuing campaign to upgrade postal service to the area.

O'Connell said the Randhurst installation will supplement present postal service by offering the services most in demand around the clock.

There are only 100 automatic operations in the country. All are in the Washington, D.C., area. The 13 of 21 self-service unit will stand on an island in the parking area of the shopping center. In addition to mail, the unit will have drive-up service, there will be vending machines for stamps, postal cards, envelopes and minimum postage literature.

Letter and parcel sales, bill and coin change, postal information brochures and even a first-class line to the post office for telephone information service make the units completely self-sufficient. O'Connell said. The units have undergone extensive testing in shopping centers in California, Georgia, and Maryland.

GEOGRAPHY showed that self-service units do not require regular post offices and their personnel functions. "They will help reduce crowding in lobbies and shorten waiting periods for service," he said.

One person pointed out that mail volume climbing at a record 1 1/2 per cent a year and facilities at the automated, self-service post office will enable the department to operate with greater speed and efficiency.

Teacher Training Center OK Waited

Approval in six weeks may come for a Teacher Training Center at Grove Elementary School Dist. 39 Wednesday submitted its application for a $469,164 Federal grant under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

Five Illinois universities are competing in preparing the application. Also involved were 17 area preschool schools and seven other community agencies.

Board members formally approved the application at a special meeting June 3. Ray Barwell explained that the center would be a "model for enhancing teacher training through continuing professional maturity and educational growth."

Agreements would be made between the center and educational agencies—University of Illinois, Northern Illinois University, Illinois Teachers' College, South and Madison Mathematics Project.

Dist. 39 board members also voted to make terms of the proposed center.

It's guaranteed—in writing—to be a super bright white, never turn yellow or grow dingy. Ask for "Dura-Writer"—the only permanently pressed polyester-blend guaranteed to stay bright white.

"Your Children are one of my most important responsibilities."

—Sen. John A. Graham

Nothing is more important to me as your State Senator than providing a quality education for our children. During the last session of the legislature, our Republican-Senate team secured the largest State aid to local schools by 21%. We made it easier for young people to get a college education by creating a state-wide Public Junior College System and by increasing state scholarship funds. We created and funded a state-wide library system. Charles Paine has called our Republican record on education last year the most impressive in the State's history.

We should be doing even more to provide a quality education for our children. May I have your support on June 14th, so that together, we can continue to build a better tomorrow for all our families in the 3rd District and the State of Illinois?

Man of Distinction

By Catherine O'Donnell

Congratulations to George Harris who was named as president of the Illinois Pharmaceutical Assn. at the annual convention held this week in the Drake Hotel, Chicago.

This is a real honor. George Harris, 44, is a pharmacist, married, lives in Arlington Heights. The one in Duane County is a popular agent because it has a highly flexible service as well as the regular drugstore items.

The other one, one on Evergreen and one in the Northwest Medical Center on Arlington Heights Rd., are the closest anyone could get to being just a pharmacist.

It will be given at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the junior high school all-purpose room.

Wanted: Ear Flaps
It started out as a bribe, but ended by shaking the neighborhood at Forest and Park in Arlington Heights.

If Jim Cagney retired, all he has to report about his father promised to buy him a real old-fashioned drug store. The store deal actually in medicine and are unique in this modern world.

Who Was That Lady?
To use your own words, she was just a girl, but she had a dream to be a nurse.

One will be given by the seventh grade class at St. James under the direction of music teacher, Sister Louise. It will be complete with an orchestra and, of course, Mr. Bones.

It will be given at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the junior high school all-purpose room.

Wanted: Ear Flaps
It started out as a bribe, but ended by shaking the neighborhood at Forest and Park in Arlington Heights.

If Jim Cagney retired, all he has to report about his father promised to buy him a guitar. Jim came through and acted the guitar.

All As, said Ray Chapell, and Jim could have an amplifier. Jim got the As and the amplifier and did what they could. He started his own rock 'n' roll group, with Chuck Cannon as lead singer, and Mike Bransford of St. Philip's. They named themselves The Apostles.

Last Sunday they practiced in the Chapel garage and it wasn't long until the calls began to come in from the neighborhood.

It seems the old-school amplifier was making enough babies and babies and was rattling dishes in nearby, empty, empty.

"I don't understand," said Jim. "We had the garage door closed all the time."

Another Customer
Another high school group of rock 'n' rollers met in the home of Bob O'Neil of 1010 N. Mount Prospect. They are called The Old Maid.

The members are Ken Hewitt, Gary O'Donnell and Tom Heasley of Arlington Heights and Bob. They practice did not practice the neighborhood music barrier, but Bob's third grade brother, Charles, added the some problem by snuffing them into his store.

It worked fine, too, until the band practice was over and Cagney still couldn't hear. The next day the family doctor returned the tightly packed times.

BY MARILYN HELPERS

Make your Memorial Day barbecue special this year with a gourmet meat picnic. A chicken recipe and very little effort on your part can produce an elegant meal.

Make a small slit in each half of four chicken breasts to form a small pocket. Mix softened butter with chopped chives, parsley and basil to form a paste. Fill a small amount of paste in the pocket of each breast.

Maine breast for two hours in a marinade consisting of four cups cream, garlic, lemon juice, Worcestershire sauce, pepper, salt and paprika. When the cooks in your grill are covered with gray ash, turn the breasts on grill, bone side down, for 15 minutes. Turn breasts and cook for 15 minutes more, brushing with marinade just before the chicken is done.

Complete your gourmet dinner with a tossed salad, hot buttered French bread, crisp green beans and a dry red wine.

GOURMET CHICKEN BREASTS

- 1/2 tsp. paprika
- 1 cup cream
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 3 cloves garlic, crushed
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 3/4 teaspoon pepper

3/4 teaspoon celery salt
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon paprika

Make a small slit in each breast using a sharp knife. Make a paste of butter, parsley, chives and 1/2 teaspoon basil. Stuff a small amount of paste into each pocket.

Combine remaining ingredients and 1/2 cup of oil. Marinate for two hours.

When breasts are gray, put the breasts on the grill, bone side down, for about 15 minutes. Turn over and cook for 15 more minutes, brushing the tops with marinade just before serving.

Summer Song Program Will Be Free

A free summer school choral program for each district. 214 high school has been approved by the board of education.

A total expenditure, not to exceed $2,017.50, has been allowed for the program, which is open to all district students and incoming freshmen.

"Maybe this is working toward the day when all summer school programs will be free to the students," said Mrs. Leah Johnson, board member.

"If it is true that a program has to be free to attract students maybe we should think seriously about offering other courses free of charge too," will cost money, but after all we are in the education business," and board member Backbeher.

The administration would like to use the time when summer school is offered at no cost to the students," said superintendent-elect Dr. E. H. Gilbert.

A DISTRICT choral program was offered last summer at Washington High School, and approximately 120 students participated. The proposed program at each school this year will be for a minimum school program.

Ogilvie Organizes Townships

Township officials from 24 northern townships, including Elk Grove and Wheeling, have organized a committee to support the candidacy of Sheriff Richard B. Ogilvie, Republican candidate for resident of the Cook County Board.

The group intends to stress Ogilvie's suburban residence during the campaign, Lewis and Ash, co-chairman of the group, said.

Ogilvie is a resident of Northbrook.

"Recent statements by leading Democrats have been to the effect that Ogilvie is a resident of Chicago City Hall, they want to destroy township government and work towards a metropolitan system under the central control of the Chicago political machine."

WHEELING Township officials in the group include Al C. Peters, Dorothy Heim Haff, John T. Peters, Mrs. Joseph Ann Carter, Robert A. Caputo and Elmer Koberg.

Elk Grove Village members are William Kolivinski, Arthur J. Metzer and William C. Hill.

When Gabe Miner was just a little girl, she loved to watch her grandmother Mrs. Charles Langston work. Mrs. Langston is one of those talented women who can look at a dress and copy it exactly without a pattern. Gabe often asked if the world made a dress for her when she got married.

Day by Day

Now Is the Moment
By Catherine O'Donnell

Well, Gabe is getting married June 11 and is delighted because her grandmother is making her dress. She is busy putting the final touches on the gown which took almost six weeks to make. It's all fabric and Chantilly lace.

Some Day

... by Frank E. Von Arx

Time of having about had that. What have you about some good news for a change?

OK. Some good news from the South. There have been helping hands a religion that for centuries created children. As a gesture of appreciation some of the soldiers decided to give a party last Sunday night for the soldiers.

There were eight tables present at the party around at 7 p.m. The lounge, program, and the band had passed the word because the school parking lot was full of soldiers and a few newspapermen were trying to get in for the first time.

The kids can't even have fun a 7 x 7 ft. area of the "chessboard" and the soldiers didn't mind that the soldier was that bad and the soldier was that good.

The soldiers actually didn't intend to be in the school. If they had, they would have had the soldiers in the school. The soldiers didn't mind that the soldier was that bad and the soldier was that good.

the program was just a bit of a soldier and a few newspapermen were trying to get in for the first time.

The kids can't even have fun a 7 x 7 ft. area of the "chessboard" and the soldiers didn't mind that the soldier was that bad and the soldier was that good.

The soldiers actually didn't intend to be in the school. If they had, they would have had the soldiers in the school. The soldiers didn't mind that the soldier was that bad and the soldier was that good.

Vantage Point

... by Jack Vandermyn

According to national news sources, many Americans were killed in Viet Nam last week than during any other week in the Viet Nam War.

And on Monday, Americans observe Memorial Day. Throughout our area, there will be parades and observances and memorial services honoring the soldiers who have died for the cause of freedom.

For many, Memorial Day will be just an opportunity to relax and take a day off and play at the beach and have fun for their own.

For others, those who have lost sons and daughters, or those who have loved ones in Viet Nam, the day will take on a special meaning. It will be a day to reflect and a day to pray and perhaps a day to cry.

WE DISCUSSED death yesterday and had some harsh words for those who attempt to convert costs of war and have for their own.

The National Safety Council predicts that more than 60 Americans will die on the nation's highways over Memorial Day Weekend.

Drivers who drink feel sympathy from Judge James Porter in Mount Pleasant district of court. Lawyers expect Judge Porter to say as one of the latest, yet a saying about him. He will usually grant one routine continuance to any defendant. And perhaps, in unusual circumstances, even a second day.

But in order to require a third delay in Judge James Porter's office, he has to be in the defendant himself.

Congressional District Democrats from London Mills, a close run with Rep. Thomas Ralbach, an Illinois House member from Moline for the district.

Word among the politicians is that President Johnson will pull all the stops to help Richard Nixon.

WITH THE election battle between the two parties on June 14, there is a lot of talk about the election. The top dogs and the candidates are in the election. The top dogs and the candidates are in the election.

One indicator is the number of votes. The number of votes is the number of votes. The number of votes is the number of votes. The number of votes is the number of votes.

Many wonder why politicians spend so much money on campaign. The answer to this is a simple one. It is a question of the political race. It is a question of the political race.

It is a question of the political race. It is a question of the political race. It is a question of the political race. It is a question of the political race.

It is a question of the political race. It is a question of the political race. It is a question of the political race. It is a question of the political race.

It is a question of the political race. It is a question of the political race. It is a question of the political race. It is a question of the political race.

"Just a note to cheer you up! It looks as though we'll be able to destroy the world sooner than expected... get well quickly!"

Relaxed Retirement

Every hard-working person deserves to look forward to post-65 years of relaxed retirement. Yet the facts are that four-fifths of single persons over 65 are poverty-stricken, with yearly incomes of less than $2,000, and two-thirds of family heads over 65 have incomes of less than $4,000 annually.

"Your people are the bulk of the old," says the New York Times. "If you weren't poor before you reached your 65th year, you are likely to be so afterward."

This doesn't have to be. Thoughtful persons will free themselves from the financial distress and daily drudgery that is solved by making provision now for relaxed retirement years.

A savings account with us is a step along the way.
